this volume arises from a cooperation between ghanaian and german academics it answers the need to have a more comprehensive and up to date volume which addresses key topics areas and problems of the ghanaian education system with a focus on history policy and curriculum related issues for many years now there have not been new comprehensive publications in this field and it is necessary to introduce a lot of recent changes in ghana's education system and reflect about their challenges the information and positions collected in this volume will be of interest to policy makers educators lecturers scholars students teachers parents and other interested people of ghana and other west african countries the book will also be of great interest to international scholars who want to understand the ghanaian education system or are involved in academic projects such as internship exchange programmes and joint research activities with ghanaian academics and educational institutions akwasi kwarteng amoako gyampah phd is a senior lecturer in the department of history education university of education winneba ghana and a senior research associate in the department of history university of johannesburg south africa bea lundt is prof emer of history and still teaches at the europe university flensburg germany she is also guest professor at the university of education winneba uew ghana

this book written by one of the foremost researchers in this field represents one of the intellectual efforts on the explanation of the inter ethnic phenomenon the author went into the critique of the whole phenomenon and approached his frame of meaning from the actor's side that is why the book is subtitled the peoples non formal mechanisms the author is phenomenological in his approach and believes that the real meaning of any event should be based on the experience of the actors he combined the pessimism of the ethnomethodologists with the realism of the phenomenologist the result of this is an essay which is considered as being nearest to the true situation of inter ethnic relations in nigeria more than that of its predecessors the book therefore reports the behaviors of nigerians in actual situations how different ethnicities pass and behave as if they are one the book heavily relied on the w i thomas dictum which says that if man defines a situation as real they are real in their consequences the consequences of mutual deception and strategic interactions mentioned in the book become real as they produce the real tools and mechanisms for tension management in a multi ethnic society the author dwells a lot on economic spheres where he identified for the first time in inter ethnic relations literature a phenomenon he refers to as market groups this group unlike its counterpart the economic associations is informal enduring and based on proper inter ethnic understanding the market group members declare their allegiance to the sarki of their commodity who may not necessarily be a member of their ethnic group different ethnic group members were united by the commodity they sold in the market the commodity to dictate their interaction style rather than ethnic or primordial emotional attachments one cannot do but remember marx s idea on fetishism of commodities in the section commodities assume and dominate the social psychology of the individuals and place ethnicity in the secondary position the role of modern formal education in forging inter ethnic unity in nigeria as reported in the book is also very illuminating the unity of curricula and subjecting the students to take the same west african senior school certificate examination all over nigeria regardless of the students state of origin or ethnic orientation contributes to the nipping of the inter ethnic distrust in the bud another important thing one may think of is the problem of unity schools to make this more effective more student exchanges should take place and the numbers of the unity schools should increase to give the young population an opportunity to practice the non formal management mechanisms in their formative years data are a crucial ingredient in any successful education system but building and sustaining a data system are challenging tasks many countries around the world have spent significant resources but still struggle to accomplish a functioning education management information system emis on the other hand countries that have created successful systems are harnessing the power of data to improve education outcomes increasingly emiss are moving away from using data narrowly for counting students and schools instead they use data to drive system wide innovations accountability professionalization and most important quality and learning this broader use of data also benefits classroom instruction and support at schools an effective data system ensures that education cycles from preschool to tertiary are aligned and that the education system is monitored so it can achieve its ultimate goal producing graduates able to successfully transition into the labor market and contribute to the overall national economy data for learning building a smart education data system and its forthcoming companion volume shed light on challenges in building a data system and provide actionable direction on how to navigate the complex issues associated with education data for better learning outcomes and beyond data for learning details the key ingredients of successful data systems including tangible examples common pitfalls and good practices it is a resource for policy makers working to craft the vision and strategic road map of an emis as well as a handbook to assist teams and decision makers in avoiding common mistakes it is designed to provide the how to and to guide countries at various stages of emis deployment a forthcoming companion volume will focus on digging deeper into the practical applications of education data systems by various user groups in different settings the book is a cutting edge contribution to the debate which has occurred for some time on the pros and cons of secondary education becoming more closely and explicitly related to preparing young people for the world of work the book provides concrete examples of the vocationalisation of secondary education with particular reference to the situation in africa the book appears in the springer book series on technical and vocational education and training issues concerns and prospects and complements the international handbook of technical and vocational education and training and other publications in the international library of tvet all of which are publications of the unesco unevoc international centre for tvet in bonn germany
