rosdolsky s making of marx s capital is a major work of interpretation and criticism written over fifteen years by one of the foremost representatives of the european marxist tradition rosdolsky investigates the relationship between various versions of capital and explains the reasons for marx s successive re workings he provides a textual exegesis of marx s grundrisse now widely available and reveals its methodological riches he presents a critique of later work in the marxist tradition on the basis of marx s fundamental distinction between capital in general and capital in concrete reality the making of marx s capital was first published in 1968 as zur entstehungsgeschichte des marx schen kapital this book analyzes key aspects of marx s capital with an eye towards its relevance for an understanding of issues confronting us in the 21st century the contributions to this volume suggest that while aspects of marx s original analysis must be adjusted to take into account changes that have occurred since its initial publication in 1867 his overall perspective remains necessary for understanding the nature of crises in 21st century part i emphasizes the central concepts marx employed in capital including exploitation capital accumulation commodity fetishism and his use of dialectics as a method for baring the underlying relations that define capitalism parts ii and iii extend that focus by addressing the concept of value fictitious capital credit and financialization parts iv and v offer analyses of several concrete manifestations of contemporary crises from national contexts europe latin america china and the united states the volume argues that we have to combat the imperatives of capitalism to move towards a more humane and egalitarian future this book argues that the dialectic of marx s capital has a systematic rather than historical character it sheds new light on marx s great work while going beyond it in many respects
